

CAMBODIA

Cambodia is a country in South East Asia. Many CMS missionaries in Cambodia are trying to help people read and understand the Bible so they can teach it clearly to others. Some missionaries are translating the Bible into the local language, teaching in schools, caring for kids at risk and looking after people's medical needs.

ACTIVITY

In Cambodia people enjoy playing a game called 'Thong flip'. Two or more people flip their thong with their foot to get it as close as possible to the target.

PLAYING AREA:

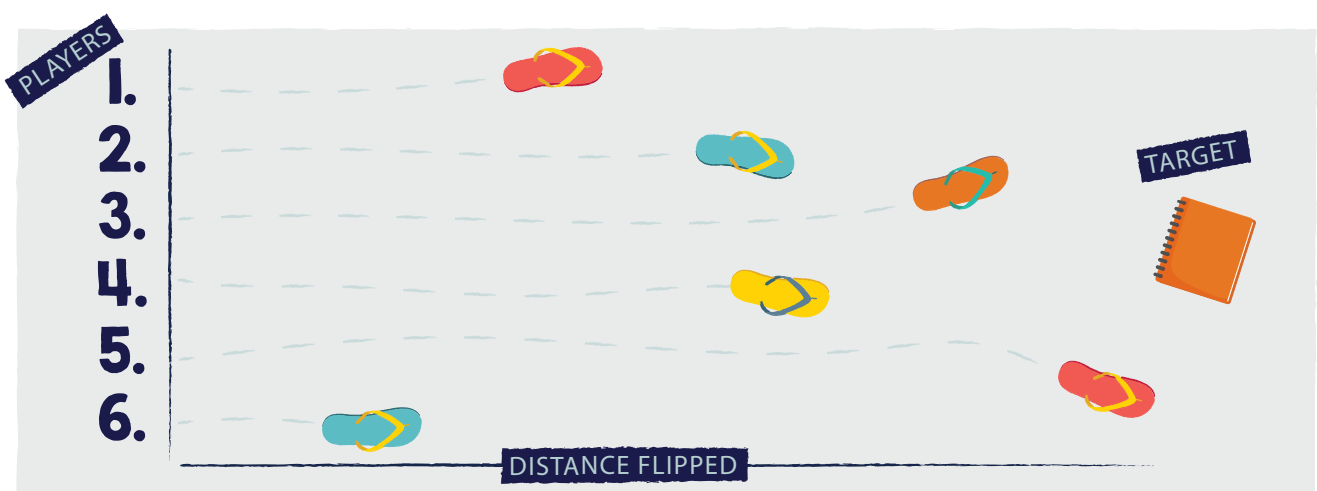

The game may be played indoors or outdoors with plenty of room. Set up a target, it could be another thong, a toy or a book. Make use of what you have around you.

EQUIPMENT:

Each player needs a thong.

RULES:

The aim is to flip your thong with your foot, to get as close to the target as possible. Each person flips their thong and the person whose thong lands the furthest away from the target is out. In each round keep moving further away from the target to make it more challenging. The deciding round is when there are only two players left, the person who flips their thong closest to the target is the winner.

Did you know?

The temple of Angkor Wat of Cambodia is the largest known temple on earth.

Fun fact:

Traditional Cambodian sports are buffalo racing, dragon boat racing and a kickboxing martial art known as pradal serey.

PRAY

Thank God

that he loves his children, and pray that children in Cambodia would know how much he loves them.

Ask God

to help lots of Cambodians to hear the good news about Jesus.

Whenever you wear a pair of thongs, pray for Cambodia!
